Driving Experiential Learning with Professional Auto Racing

Melvin Lewis, The University of Alabama
Ken Wright, The University of Alabama

Teaching & Learning Fair - Experiential/Service Learning (Professional Sport)
Teaching & Learning Fair Presentation
Abstract 2017-132

Friday, June 2, 2017
10:15 AM
Room: Sopris

A graduate level marketing course in Sports Business Management collaborated with The National Association for Stock Car Racing (NASCAR) to create a strategic marketing case study. The faculty considered objectives that experiential learning supports students’ educational and practical development. The project was mutually-beneficial for the students' and the NASCAR organization.