Using Simulations as Teaching Tools in Sport Management Courses

Jules Woolf, Adelphi University
Jess Dixon, University of Windsor

Teaching & Learning Fair - Role Playing (Other)        Friday, June 2, 2017
Teaching & Learning Fair Presentation
Abstract 2017-140       10:15 AM
Room: Sopris

Simulations are often used in management training (Faria et al., 2009). However, there is a dearth of sport management specific simulations available to educators. We created a simulation that faculty can use to teach the hiring process in a sport management context. Resources and recommendations for implementation will be provided.