Integrating Undergraduate Research into the Sport Management Curriculum

John Grady, University of South Carolina
Matthew Brown, University of South Carolina
Andy Gillentine, University of South Carolina

Teaching & Learning Fair - Experiential/Service Learning (Olympic Sport)
Teaching & Learning Fair Presentation
Abstract 2017-308
Saturday, June 3, 2017 9:40 AM
Room: Sopris

Undergraduate research is an effective way for sport management students to connect classroom learning with practical experiences. Students recognize how skills learned in one domain are applied in the research setting (Richards-Shuster et al., 2014). Using Olympic sport examples, students’ projects demonstrate the role of research in informing management decision-making.