Abstract 2017-309                                    Room: Sopris

In an effort to improve our student’s global perspective, we have interjected an International Field trip. An international field trip is not a full blown study abroad. We still teach the class during the normal semester and add a ten to fourteen day field trip to enhance global learning.
