Implementing Experiential Learning into the Sport Marketing Classroom: Planning Season Promotions for the Mississippi Braves

Chris Croft, University of Southern Mississippi

Teaching & Learning Fair - Experiential/Service Learning (Professional Sport)
Teaching & Learning Fair Presentation
Abstract 2019-309
Saturday, June 1, 2019 9:20 AM
Room: Borgne

A well-designed service-learning feature of a course can benefit students by allowing them to learn through experience. This presentation will offer insights as to how a graduate sport marketing class attained valuable hands-on experiential learning of professional marketing and promotional activities by collaborating with a minor league baseball team.